To whom it may concern:

CFX is one of BMW Manufacturing Corporations most valued suppliers. I would recommend them as the Premier Tire and Wheel assembly in the area.

Tom and his team have worked very closely with our Engineering group in both Spartanburg and Munich with the result being a high technology, automated, state-of-the-art tire and wheel assembly process. There are over 100 possible tire and wheel combinations with our current portfolio of options, and CFX, along with their system, have performed flawlessly. As we continue to grow, the system is already designed with expansion and flexibility, which allows a seamless upgrade.

CFX is also a Minority Business Enterprise. This is, however, not the reason we selected CFX to be our tire and wheel assembly partner. CFX earned the nomination with a competitive bid, and the willingness to work together with BMW towards the goal of launching our X3 vehicle platform.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions that you may have.

Sincerely,

Joe Mullen
